ITEM 5. OTHER EVENTS

On July 8, 2003, Yellow Corporation ("Yellow" or the "Company") announced the signing of a definitive agreement under which Yellow will acquire Roadway Corporation ("Roadway") for approximately $966 million, or $48 per share (based on a fixed exchange ratio and a 60-day average price per share of $24.95 for Yellow common stock in a half cash, half stock transaction). Roadway will merge with and into a wholly owned subsidiary of Yellow. By virtue of the merger, the surviving company will remain obligated with respect to approximately $140 million of Roadway indebtedness.

In general, upon the closing of the acquisition, each share of Roadway stock will be converted into 1.924 shares of Yellow common stock. However, a Roadway shareholder may elect to receive $48 in cash in lieu of Yellow stock for each share of the shareholder's stock. Notwithstanding the individual elections of the Roadway shareholders, no more than 50% of the Roadway shares may be converted into cash. If more than 50% of the Roadway shares elect to receive cash, those shareholders that so elect will receive proportionately less cash and more stock such that 50% of the shares outstanding will receive cash, and 50% will receive stock. If fewer than 50% of the shares elect to receive cash, the shares that did not elect to receive cash will receive proportionately less Yellow stock and more cash such that 50% of the Roadway shares outstanding will receive cash and 50% will receive stock. As a result of these elections and adjustments, the aggregate consideration in the acquisition will consist of approximately 50% cash and 50% Yellow common stock. Assuming all shareholders elect to receive 50% cash and 50% Yellow common stock, each shareholder will receive $24 per share in cash and 0.962 shares (or one half of the exchange ratio) of Yellow common stock for each Roadway share, subject to any adjustment in the exchange ratio described below.

The exchange ratio of 1.924 shares will be subject to further adjustment based upon the 20-trading day average per share closing price of Yellow common stock as of the date five trading days before closing. If the average price is less than $21.21, the exchange ratio shall be the quotient of $40.81 and the average price, or if the average price is greater than $28.69, then the exchange ratio shall be the quotient of $55.20 and the average price. If the average price of Yellow common stock is less than $16.63, Yellow may elect not to consummate the acquisition.

The transaction is subject to the approval of the shareholders of both companies, the successful completion of the financing of the cash portion of the purchase price as well as the refinancing of certain existing debt facilities of both companies and customary regulatory approvals including the expiration or termination of the waiting period pursuant to the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended. Subject to the successful completion of these events, the transaction is expected to close in the fourth quarter of 2003.

The foregoing is qualified by reference to Exhibits 2.1 and 99.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K, which are incorporated herein by reference.

YELLOW CORPORATION TO ACQUIRE ROADWAY CORPORATION
FOR $966 MILLION

-- COMBINED YELLOW-ROADWAY COMPANY CREATES ONE OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST TRANSPORTATION SERVICE PROVIDERS --

--TRANSACTION EXPECTED TO BE ACCRETIVE AFTER THE FIRST YEAR, YIELDING ANNUAL COST SYNERGIES OF $45 MILLION --

OVERLAND PARK, KS AND AKRON, OH -- JULY 8, 2003 -- Yellow Corporation (NASDAQ: YELL) and Roadway Corporation (NASDAQ: ROAD), two of the most widely recognized brand names in the transportation industry, today announced they have entered into a definitive agreement under which Yellow Corporation will acquire Roadway Corporation for approximately $966 million, or $48 per share (based on a fixed exchange ratio and a 60-day average price per share of $24.95 for Yellow common stock in a half cash, half stock transaction). This represents a 49 percent premium for Roadway shares based on the 60-day average closing price of Roadway stock. Yellow Corporation will also assume an expected $140 million in net Roadway indebtedness, bringing the enterprise value of the acquisition to approximately $1.1 billion.

The combined enterprise, which will be known as Yellow-Roadway Corporation, will be one of the largest transportation service providers in the world, with the ability to move shipments domestically and internationally. Yellow-Roadway will be the largest U.S.-based transportation service provider with a focus on big shipments for business-to-business customers. The combined revenue of both companies for the twelve months ending the first quarter of 2003 was nearly $6 billion.

Bill Zollars, currently chairman, president, and chief executive officer of Yellow, will be chairman, president, and chief executive officer of the combined company. James D.

Staley, currently president and chief executive officer of Roadway, will continue to lead Roadway, which will be an operating entity under the Yellow-Roadway holding company. Three members of the Roadway Board of Directors will join the Board of Yellow-Roadway -- Frank P. Doyle, John F. Fiedler, and Phillip J. Meek.

The complementary operations and capabilities of Yellow and Roadway provide the combined company with the increased scale, strong financial base, and market reach necessary to increase shareholder value and enhance customer service. Specifically, this transaction will allow Yellow-Roadway to:

- - Strengthen its position in the highly competitive domestic and global transportation marketplace;
- - Continue to invest in and grow the brands of both businesses;
- - Implement best practices over a broader customer base;
- - Leverage service capabilities and technologies for the benefit of customers;
- - Introduce non-asset-based transportation management services to Roadway customers.

Yellow Corporation expects the transaction to be accretive within 12 months after closing and provide a return in excess of the weighted average cost of capital in the second year. Annual synergies of $45 million should be achieved by the end of the second year. By year five annual synergies could be in excess of $125 million.

Commenting on the transaction, Mr. Zollars said, "This strategic combination brings the strengths of Yellow and Roadway together to capture significant synergies and growth opportunities. It accelerates our ongoing strategy, implemented over the past six years, to transform Yellow into a global transportation services and solutions leader. While there will be no change in the customer interface, customers can benefit from new and expanded service capabilities and greater technological advances."

Mr. Zollars continued, "Roadway's management team has done an outstanding job developing their company into a leading transportation service provider. The new organization can enhance shareholder value and employee opportunities at both companies."

Mr. Staley said, "Our decision to combine with Yellow Corporation is an excellent step forward for our company. Given the similarities in transportation operations, capabilities, and union relations that our companies share, partnering with Yellow is a logical move that clearly positions our combined organization for long-term growth and success."

"Our Akron headquarters will continue to be a major center of operations, and we will continue to invest in and build the brands of both companies," added Mr. Staley. "Moreover, Roadway employees will become part of a larger and stronger enterprise well positioned for profitable growth."

"Our synergy teams are focused on reducing administrative costs, creating efficiencies, and identifying duplicative areas within our two organizations," Mr. Zollars said, adding, "We expect minimal employee displacement among Field Sales & Operations at either company. Among other employee groups, all decisions are expected to be made based on best practices and expertise, irrespective of company affiliation."

Mr. Zollars concluded, "We are creating an enterprise with a stable work environment and avenues for job growth. Our management teams are looking forward to working closely together for a smooth and expeditious transition. From increased scale and greater efficiencies, to long-term growth and financial strength, this is the right transaction at the right time with the right partner."

In general, upon the closing of the acquisition, each share of Roadway stock will be converted into 1.924 shares of Yellow common stock. However, there is a cash election option and a collar of plus or minus 15% from $24.95 per Yellow share. Additional information is contained in the company's current report on Form 8K being filed today with the Securities and Exchange Commission. A copy of the Form 8K can be obtained from www.sec.gov as well as Yellow's website.

Deutsche Bank acted as financial advisor to Yellow Corporation in this transaction, and CS First Boston acted as financial advisor to Roadway Corporation.

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This news release (and oral statements made regarding the subjects of this release, including on the conference call announced herein) contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. The words "expect," "will," "look forward to" and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements.

The expectations set forth in this release regarding accretion, returns on invested capital, achievement of annual savings and synergies, achievement of strong cash flow, sufficiency of cash flow to fund capital expenditures and achievement of debt reduction targets are only the parties' expectations regarding these matters. Actual results could differ materially from these expectations depending on factors such as the combined company's cost of capital, the ability of the combined company to identify and implement cost savings, synergies and efficiencies in the time frame needed to achieve these expectations, prior contractual commitments of the combined companies and their ability to terminate these commitments or amend, renegotiate or settle the same, the combined company's actual capital needs, the absence of any material incident of property damage or other hazard that could affect the need to effect capital expenditures, any unforeseen merger or acquisition opportunities that could affect capital needs, the costs incurred in implementing synergies and the factors that generally effect both Yellow's and Roadway's respective businesses as further outlined in "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in each of the companies respective Annual Reports on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2002. Yellow's plans regarding the maintenance of the separate Yellow and Roadway brands and networks, the continuation of the Roadway headquarters as a major operational center, the focus on administrative and back office synergies and workforce rationalizations are only its current plans and intentions regarding these matters. Actual actions that the combined company may take may differ from time to time as the combined company may deem necessary or advisable in the best interest of the combined company and its shareholders to attempt to achieve the successful integration of the companies, the synergies needed to make the transaction a financial success and to react to the economy and the combined company's market for its transportation services.
